Stockman Bank Once Again Named One of the World's Best Banks by Forbes

Stockman Bank has been honored by Forbes on its list of the World's Best Banks for 2025. This is the fourth consecutive year Stockman has been recognized by Forbes. Ranking 47th on the list, Stockman was one of only 66 American banks on the list, and the only Montana bank to be included. This prestigious award is presented by Forbes and Statista, the world-leading statistics portal and industry ranking provider. The award list was announced on April 9th, 2025, and can be viewed on the Forbes website.

“Being acknowledged for four consecutive years and being the sole bank from Montana featured on this list is a remarkable honor,” said Bill Coffee, Stockman Bank CEO. “This award holds particular significance for us, as it showcases the trust our customers place in our ability to fulfill their financial needs. It also serves as a testament to the expertise and commitment of our employees, who consistently prioritize the needs of our customers, supported by a dedication to local management and quick decision-making.”

Survey participants were asked to name all banks where they have or previously had a checking or savings account. The participants evaluated the bank on several criteria: Trust, Terms & Conditions, Customer Service, Digital Services, and Financial Advice. Based on the customer evaluations a score was calculated for each bank. In every country, the banks with the highest score in their respective countries were awarded.
